Description

OVERVIEW

If you're looking for an excuse to become an RV owner, Passport SL travel trailers are it. Known as the swiss army knife of RV's for its multi-functional features and best-in-class storage, these nimble models range from around 3,500 to 6,000 pounds, providing towable options for many SUV's and light duty trucks. Though smaller, these floorplans offer everything campers love about Passport RV's---tons of storage, including rear cargo doors with flip-up bunks on some models. Many of these super-light campers feature a new murphy bed design which sneakily reveals a sofa when not in use, living up to Passport's multi-functional pedigree. This year, Passport features and all-new streamlined design, exactly what modern campers have been asking for.
